Calendar Updates and Timely Information

Welcome Back! We hope your family had a wonderful break and look forward to the remainder of the school year. Thanks to all our parents and faculty for contributing to the holiday activities and feasts and for your thoughtful gifts to our faculty and staff. Let's make 2010 the best year ever!

Important Calendar Change!

The 1:00PM dismissal originally calendared for Wednesday, Feb. 17th has been changed to Thursday, Feb. 18th to allow teachers ample time to set up displays in the classrooms for the Celebration of Learning Open House and Science Fair.

It's Recruitment Season

Do you have family members, friends, and co-workers who are looking for a great school for their child? Tell them about Brookfield's Open Houses for Prospective Families! We have two scheduled this month, January 13th and 27th at 2:00PM. We also have flyers about our school available in the school office. Our parents and students are our best marketing tool. Please help us find families who are a good fit for our program. Dr. Jo has begun admissions interviews and testing for siblings of current students and new incoming students this month. We will continue to accept qualified new students until classes are filled.

If you have a younger sibling in the family you would like admitted for the 2010-11 school year and have not yet turned in an application and/or set up an assessment appointment, please do so immediately. Priority placement is given to qualified siblings who apply during the month of January. Open enrollment for remaining spaces begins in February.

GOOOO EAGLES! Come cheer on our "tough as nails" Wrestling Team tomorrow, January 7th in the Social Hall. See "Flolo's Footnotes" attached.

DON'T MISS OUT! We still have a few tickets left for the Court of Dreams Event on Friday, Feb. 5th. This year's event includes a gourmet buffet prepared by the Maloof's personal chef, Brookfield parent, Chef Christophe Cornet! More surprises to come! The reservation form is attached.

Sacramento Theatre Company is currently enrolling students in grades 4-9 in Acting Classes. See the attached flyer for more information.
